HELM Analytics Earns Spot on Annual Top 50 Technology Vendors List

Enterprise-class business intelligence provider recognized as industry leader

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 30, 2010 – Helm Analytics, a business intelligence and analytics company, announced that it has earned a spot on Mortgage Technology magazine's 2010 Top 50 Mortgage Technology Service Providers. The company has gained rapid momentum since launching operations in early 2009.

According to officials at the magazine, to make the list companies must excel at four primary criteria: customer satisfaction, functionality, market share and viable revenue model. Mortgage Technology, a SourceMedia owned publication, states that it is crucial that vendors have satisfied clients, deliver functional value to lenders, and help keep clients apace of competing technology and industry initiatives.

In the 1990's, members of HELM's current management team supported system enhancements for compliance and regulatory change requirements. Today, the launch of HELM faces a similar environment, as it helps companies navigate through new and challenging financial reform laws and looming system and reporting requirements.

"HELM's technical capabilities, compliance expertise and contemporary platform have us well positioned for continued success," said Raminder Singh, President of HELM Analytics. "It's a huge honor to be recognized by Mortgage Technology magazine on their annual Top 50 Tech Service Providers list."

HELM Analytics brings system integration and technical expertise to help companies support tracking and reporting regulatory requirements. The rapidly evolving regulatory environment mandates enhanced system capabilities to control data and reporting.

Shay Tengan, vice president of business development at Helm Analytics added: "We have developed solutions for tracking and reporting data to support greater transparency with an added Business Analytics dimension. Making the Top 50 Tech Service Providers list is an exciting recognition of the work we have done to support our partners."
